

MEET THE

Teacher

Mrs. King

FAVORITES

- Sandalwood & Patchouli
- Fresh-cut flowers
- Sushi
- Traveling
- Chick-fil-a
- Hobby Lobby
- Coffee Shops
- Protein snacks
- Amazon

NOT A FAN

ABOUT ME

I remember knowing I wanted to be a teacher when I was in 6th grade. I have always felt that God created me to help others learn. I earned my degree from Texas Tech University in 2007 and taught 7th and 8th grade literature for six and a half years before having my first child. At that time, I promised myself I would never return to education unless God led me to do so, as my experience in the public school system had left me with a somewhat jaded perspective. BUT GOD.

I can honestly say that there is no position in education that has meant more to me than the opportunity to share God's character and love with my students. Test scores are small potatoes compared to that, my friends! These children, whether they are in pre-K or seniors in high school, need deep roots in the Truth and familiarity with the character of Christ. It has been a privilege and honor to worship and teach about our Elohim alongside them. They teach me so much, too! Regardless of the challenges, my heart will always flourish in Kingdom business.

