ABOUT ME

My journey began as the child of a kindergarten teacher in my home country, Hungary. From a young age, I loved kids, often playing "teacher" during my childhood. Starting in high school, I completed nine years of teacher training. I am a qualified preschool teacher, elementary art teacher and middle school English teacher. Once my children reached school age, I became intrigued by the concept of homeschooling, especially free learning. I take great pride in my own three kids; not only are they creative and avid readers but also bilingual. In my PreK class here at CCA, I primarily see myself as a model and facilitator. Our activities include extensive reading, engaging in creative crafts or art and enjoying various exciting role plays such as Jurassic Park, rodeo, pirates, or even reenacting baptisms. It is my great honor to teach this class.
